We also comply with certain legal frameworks relating to the transfer of data, such as the implementation of standard contractual clauses (SCCs). SCCs are written commitments between parties that can be used as a ground for data transfers from the European Union to third countries by providing appropriate data protection safeguards. SCCs have been approved by the European Commission and for transfers of data to countries outside the United Kingdom and Switzerland. We rely on SCCs for our data transfers where required.

These might include retention periods (1) mandated by law, contract, or similar obligations applicable to our business operations; (2) for preserving, resolving, defending, or enforcing our legal/contractual rights; or (3) needed to maintain adequate and accurate business and financial records.

All information you provide to us is stored on secure servers. We maintain a wide variety of programs and security and controls to protect your information. Any payment transactions will be encrypted using Secure Sockets Layer (SSL) technology. We follow the Payment Card Industry Data Security Standard (PCI DSS) when handling credit card data. We ask you not to share a password with anyone and to use a unique, strong password. Be sure to sign off when finished using a shared computer.

Unfortunately, the transmission of information via the internet is not completely secure. Although we will do our best to protect your personal information, we cannot guarantee the security of your information transmitted to our site; any transmission is at your own risk. Canada’s Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (PIPEDA) and Alberta and British Columbia’s Personal Information Protection Acts (PIPA)

Canada’s Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (PIPEDA), and the Personal Information Protection Act (PIPA) for Alberta and British Columbia, set standards for privacy practices in the private sector for covered entities. Individuals governed by these privacy laws have the right to see the information companies have about them as well as request corrections. Individuals can also:

- Ask about the collection or usage of personal information by an organization;
- Seek advisement of who within the organization is responsible for the protection of personal information;
- Expect organizations to use, collect, or disclose personal data in an appropriate manner;
- Expect organizations to follow consent regarding personal data and to adhere to proper protection procedures and techniques; or

- Report the management of personal data within an organization if privacy rights are violated.

We cannot respond to your request or provide you with personal information if we cannot verify your identity or authority to make the request and confirm the personal information relates to you. Please note that the above rights are not absolute, and we may be entitled to refuse requests, wholly or partly, where exceptions under applicable law apply.
